

GPG Senior Projects Manager
(with advanced Arabic or Russian speaking skills)

£30,000- £35,000 pa

Based in London, UK with frequent travel (when possible). In light of current working conditions due to Covid-19, we will also consider remote/flexible working for this role.

NB: at present, personnel are working remotely, but the postholder will be expected to travel frequently to project countries as part of teams, once this becomes possible.

Global Partners Governance works with parliaments, governments, and political parties around the world to promote representative politics and effective governance. Our work directly supports politicians and staff and has included the delivery of projects in Africa, the Middle East and Central Asia.

The postholder will manage specific projects in the MENA or Central Asia region as well as contributing to GPG's wider research, communication, and business development activities.

Applicants must have current UK work authorisation that does not require employer sponsorship.

Role and tasks

The Senior Projects Manager will:

- Oversee and manage the delivery of projects. This includes managing the overall work plan, financial management of projects, monitoring and evaluation, and regular reporting to funders.
- Develop partnerships and directly implement activities in project countries based on an understanding of the challenges and opportunities facing the project's stakeholders.
- Brief and liaise with our project specialists and consultants to maximise their contribution to project activities.
- Liaise with other GPG projects managers on synergies between our existing projects.
- Travel regularly to project country and occasionally other countries where necessary for project activities and company events.
- Act as the key point of contact for GPG's project work with external stakeholders, representing GPG at external events including meetings, roundtables and conferences and supporting the communications team in providing information about the project to external audiences.
- Contribute to organisation-wide Monitoring & Evaluation. Develop and implement effective strategies for creating theories of change, evaluation frameworks, and effective reporting across all projects and teams.
- Identify opportunities to grow and extend GPG's work, including through partnerships with new organisations and funders.

- Contribute to bids and proposals for new projects, working in collaboration with the Head of Business Development.
- Maintain a thorough knowledge of the political developments in the MENA or Central Asia region and carry out research in support of projects.

Person Specification

- Previous project management experience, preferably in an international and/or political context, including planning, programme implementation, financial management and donor relations.
- Solid knowledge and understanding of monitoring and evaluation approaches for governance projects and/or adaptive management approaches.
- Fluent English language skills are a core requirement of the role, with native or near native proficiency including excellent writing skills. Advanced Arabic OR Russian language skills are also required for this role.
Please note: a written translation and spoken interpreting task will be part of the interview process for this post.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills: ability to communicate effectively with a diverse range of stakeholders including senior politicians and to work collaboratively as part of a team.
- Knowledge of Middle East OR Central Asian politics, and previous professional experience preferred.
- Flexibility and ability to adapt to changing work needs and political environment.
- Educated to university level.
- GPG works in fragile states and developing countries. Applicants must be available and willing to travel regularly to these countries as part of a short-term project team.

Please note GPG/GPGF reserves the right to appoint two Senior Project Managers should more than one suitable candidate be found.
