Global Partners Governance (GPG) / Global Partners Governance Foundation (GPGF) works with parliaments, governments, and political parties around the world to promote representative politics and effective governance. Our work directly supports politicians and staff and has included the delivery of projects in Africa, the Middle East, and Central Asia.

We pride ourselves on doing things differently, working with local partners to create behavioural change with a long-term impact. We are a small and supportive organisation with opportunities for progression. Colleagues benefit from exposure to high-profile associates, travel, and interesting work.

The postholder will manage specific projects within GPG's expanding roster of programmes in the MENA region, including Lebanon, Kuwait, Iraq and Sudan, as well as contributing to GPG/ F's wider research, communication, and business development activities.

Role and tasks

The Senior Project Manager will:

- Oversee and manage the delivery of our MENA portfolio. This includes managing the overall programmes, financial management of projects, monitoring and evaluation, and regular reporting to funders.
- Work together with project teams to implement activities based on an understanding of the challenges and opportunities facing the project's stakeholders.
- Brief and liaise with our project specialists and consultants to maximise their contribution to project activities.
- Travel regularly to project country and occasionally other countries where necessary for project activities and company events.
- Identify opportunities to grow and extend GPG/F's work in the MENA region, including through partnerships with new organisations and funders.
- Contribute to bids and proposals for new projects, working in collaboration with the Head of Business Development.
- Maintain a thorough knowledge of the political developments in the MENA region (specific GPG/F country programmes in the MENA region) and carry out research and analysis in support of projects.
- Liaise with other GPG/F project managers on synergies between our overall and existing portfolios across the organisation(s).
- Represent GPG/F at external events including meetings, roundtables and conferences and supporting the communications team in providing information about the project to external audiences.

Person Specification

- Previous project management experience, preferably in an international and/or political context, including planning, programme implementation, financial management and donor relations.
- Solid knowledge and understanding of monitoring and evaluation approaches for governance projects and/or adaptive management approaches.
- Solid knowledge and understanding of managing medium-large scale budgets and financial reporting.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills, ability to communicate effectively with a diverse range of stakeholders including senior politicians and to work collaboratively as part of a team.
- Knowledge of MENA politics and previous professional experience preferred.
- Flexibility and ability to adapt to changing work needs and political environment.

- GPG works in fragile states and developing countries. Applicants must be available and willing to travel regularly to these countries as part projects team.
- Fluent English and Arabic language skills are a core requirement of the role, with native or near native proficiency including excellent writing skills. An Arabic test will be applied as part of the interview process.

What we offer

- An exciting role in a young and dynamic international organiaation with the opportunity to make a real impact by growing the role.
- Emphasis on personal development with close support from a wider team, and opportunities for formal training and organisation-wide knowledge sharing.
- Competitive salary, employer pension, and 25 days of annual leave plus public holidays.
- Comprehensive Employee Assistance Programme to promote physical and mental wellbeing of employees.
